M. CASIMIR PERIER, Elected to-day as President of France.

M. Casimir-Perier is a wealthy man, of strong mind, and was looked upon as the candidate of the Conservatives of France. He has shown himself to be a firm upholder of the law and the advocate of repressive measures against Anarchy. In appearance the new President of France is short, dark and well-dressed, extremely polite and of military bearing.

M. Casimir-Perier is connected through his wife, who was the Countess de Segur, with noble families of the Faubourg St. Germain. It is expected that under his administration a brilliant social life will reopen at the Elysee.
